Dear Mr Chan,

We are writing to enquire about the possibility to move the latest Aegir CMS code derived from Nadmin Studio under the GNU General Public License (GPL).

The Aegir CMS Business Community represented by multiple companies (see enclosed appendix), most of them former Hong Kong Linux Center (HKLC) clients and partners, decided to take over the development of Nadmin Studio under the new name Aegir CMS.

The GPL would enable us to continue the development of this product and Linux distributions to utilize Aegir CMS, spreading the Aegir CMS/Nadmin Studio Community. Moreover GPL would enable more volunteers to get involved in Aegir CMS development, making the product better for also HKLC's clients

HKLC would still be recognized as the original author of the application. In essence, Aegir CMS would be free, widely spread advertisement for HKLC's development services.

Changing the license of Aegir CMS will not will not take anything away from HKLC, and brings the possibility of large number of additional business by paid customization work and projects. HKLC's name will remain in the application, and so users are likely to ask there first for any professional services.

If you agree with this licence change, please send a confirming email to nadmin-dev@midgard-project.org.

We are looking forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely yours

Aegir CMS Business Community
